Of the 100 schools, the majority of which are one-room buildings, will not open until the 23rd. Other schools are in session for several months.

New Waterford Late

New Waterford will not open its schools until October 1, Leonard said, due to construction work in the building. An addition providing room for an increase in enrollment is being built and will not be completed until the latter part of September.

Increases in teaching enrollments are reported almost every school in the county. In East Liverpool, according to B. G. Ludwig, will be more than 450 freshmen in the high school and reach a total of approximately 1,200. This is a slight increase, however, over last year's enrollment, all previous enrollments and new high total is expected to be established.

Consolidation of schools in the county has been eliminated by the county board's action in closing various school districts.

Late Check Raises Lives Lost In Collision Of Vessels

CAPTAIN WENT WITH COMMAND

Liners' Owners Blame Oil Tanker For Accident

San Francisco, Aug. 31.—With a new check adding half a dozen more probable victims, the list of missing in the steamship San Juan disaster rose today to 74.

The exact total of fatalities may never be determined, it was disclosed by A. E. Gillespie, president of the company that operated the San Francisco-Los Angeles liner which foundered at midnight Thursday after a collision with an oil tanker.

Gillespie pointed out there may have been extra passengers who boarded the San Juan just before she sailed and purchased tickets from the purser after the vessel cleared port.

Only the purser would know how many such passengers the San Juan carried. Gillespie explained, and the purser was not among the survivors. Gillespie believed, however, that the belated passengers would not number more than three or four.

Eleven More Survivors

Eleven more survivors, four of them injured, arrived in San Francisco today on the Coast Guard Cutter Shawnee. The ill-fated craft, according to revised figures, carried 66 passengers and a crew of 50. Forty-two passengers and seamen were rescued.

Limping into San Francisco under her own power, her bow plates torn and dented, the Standard Oil tanker, S. C. T. Dodd, which rammed and sank the coastwise liner in a heavy fog off the Santa Cruz coast, brought the bulk of the stunned and injured survivors.

Among the survivors were 22 of the San Juan's crew and only 18 passengers. Only three of the 23 women of the ship's passenger list were saved. The bodies of several women who perished were picked up by the Coast Guard Cutter Tahoe.

Charges that the Dodd was sailing through the fog at excessive speed without a proper lookout and without sounding the required signals were made by the San Juan owners in a suit filed in federal court demanding $1,800,000 damages.

True to marine tradition, Capt. Adolph F. Asplund, aged skipper of the San Juan, went down with his charge.

"I was standing near him," reported Stewart George Haines. "He shouted to me, 'why don't you jump, you fool!' I jumped."

Immediately after these bids were awarded the Leetonia school district officials completed its budget for the new year and will file it immediately with County Auditor Elmer E. Walker, after which it will go before the county budget commission.

Dun Eden lake, Westville lake, Lake Placentia, Lake Brady, Idora park, Cascade park, and others are expected to receive a large gathering of Salem motorists.

The Ohio State fair is also an attraction.

TRAGEDY MARKS ENDURANCE TRY; PLANE CRASHES

Thomas Reid Killed Near Cleveland Airport Today

Municipal Airport, Cleveland, Aug. 31.—Tragedy marked the opening of the seventh day of the 1929 National Air Races here today when Thomas G. ("Jack") Reid, youthful Californian, was killed when his plane crashed into a tree near the Municipal Airport after he had just broken the world's solo endurance flight record.

At 1:01.08 today Reid, flying an Emsco monoplane, had been aloft over the Municipal Airport here where the air races are in progress, for 3 hours, 56 minutes and 36 seconds, bettering by more than an hour the previous record held by Lieut. Herbert J. Fahy of Burbank, Cal.

A short time afterwards, his mangled and crushed body was found by searching scout planes amid the wreckage of his demolished endurance plane.

A crowd of aviators and citizens were waiting at the airport for Reid to land when the tragic news was brought to them by the air scouters who had found the flyer's body.

Although he had broken the endurance record established by Lieut. Herbert J. Fahy at Burbank, Cal., Reid had intended to stay aloft until dawn.

Was Recently Married

Friends of the flyer said he was to have gotten $100 for every hour he remained in the clouds above the record. Reid had planned to use this money for a honeymoon trip. He was married just the day before he left California for the 1929 National Air Races here.

The high spot of yesterday's session of the races included more stunt flying by Col. Charles Lindbergh, innumerable races, glider contests and parachute jumps.

Charles "Speed" Holman, the daring pilot of Southern California gave the spectators a thrill that probably will be remembered for a long time to come. He took a Ford tri-motored transport plane off the ground and for the first time in history succeeded in stunting this type of ship. While the crowd held its breath, the daring Holman looped, barrel rolled, side-slipped and

She sent a telegram to Bixler which passed him on the way saying, "Don't come. Changed my mind. Married yesterday."

ARABS ATTACK JEWISH AREAS

Children Killed With Parents In Raid On Matza

London, Aug. 31.—Ghastly details of the Arab attacks upon Jews in various sections of Palestine were cabled to the Daily Mail today by its correspondent in Jerusalem.

Almost unbelievable acts of cruelty were committed by the Moslem raiders upon their Jewish victims at Motza, one of the villages recently attacked and pillaged by the Arab hordes.

Jewish babies were killed with no more compunction than their parents were laid low, the correspondent declares. When the attack was over and part of the town in flames, the Arabs hurled the mutilated bodies of infants and children into burning stables, the dispatch adds.

Following the attack upon Haifa, it is said, Jews drove backward and forward through the town in automobiles firing at every Arab seen.

The correspondent quotes the sister in charge of the Hebron hospital as describing the Arab massacre of Jewish residents and students in that town the worst in her memory.

"I have seen pogroms in Poland," she is quoted as saying, "but never have I witnessed such terrible sights as when maimed and injured Jews were brought in here.

"It is bad enough to be killed, but these poor victims were terribly mutilated."

School Opening Presents Traffic Hazard; Warning

Drivers Can Eliminate Tragedies By Being Careful

With almost every school in the county preparing to open its doors to a record-breaking enrollment of pupils within the next ten days, the Columbiana County Motor club, through its manager, Albert P. Morris, today broadcasts a warning to motorists, that the return to children to the schoolroom will create new traffic hazards, and urged careful driving on the part of every car owner.

The national motor body stresses the fact that prevention of accidents involving school children is largely within the province of the motorist, and that the exercise of caution will go far in reducing the number of deaths and injuries.

"School days are just ahead," Morris stated today, "and millions of children throughout the country will be on the streets and highways. In the vast army of pupils will be many who for the first time leave the protection and safety of home and parents to enter an entirely new world. There will be problems enough without those of the reckless and careless driver."

"While there is no doubt," he continued, "that the teaching of safety in schools throughout the county, safety posters and the effective work of schoolboy patrols, has done much to protect the younger pupils, the problem still remains, one of the outstanding challenges to safety in our nation."

"Every motorist must feel obligated to have a part in the great humanitarian work of helping elimin-

Lindy Gives Qualifications Neccessary For Ideal Flier; Air No Place For Dreamer

(Copyright I. N. S.)

Cleveland, Aug. 31.—If you have an excessive imagination stifle it as quickly as possible or else abandon all thoughts of ever becoming a successful airplane pilot and devote your talents to less spectacular phases of aviation.

This, in effect, is the latest advice that Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, America's greatest flier, gives to young men who might aspire to a portion of the aeronautical glory that is his.

The flying colonel, who is a spectator and a participant at the 1929 national air races here, was "interviewed" today by a student flier. As a consequence the colonel was more talkative on the subject dearest his heart than he would have been had the interviewer been, say for instance a newspaper man.

"Flying," said Lindbergh, "will always be a great strain on a pilot's nerves. A man with an active imagination is invariably more nervous, more sensitive than the more stolid type of man. It follows, then, doesn't it, that the best pilots come from the latter type.

"However, a pilot needs imagination—in moderation. A man without some imagination can no more hope to make good at flying a plane than he can hope to make good at any other endeavor. But if his imagination runs away with him, as it does with many men, if he is a dreamer, then he should become a business executive of a participant in the other side of flying—the business side.

"Aviation can use all the imagination that men have to give it. A new art, a new industry, needs dreamers, men who can see beyond the present realities of every day life and every day social and business intercourse."

"You would not advise a man with an artist's temperament to become a pilot then, would you, Colonel," the student flyer asked.

"No," he replied without hesitation. "The artist's place is in the ranks of the designers, the engineers."

"The best pilots," the colonel went on, "are men who have no knowledge of fear. That is nothing against him. In many cases it is a

Lindbergh's Mother Spectator at Races

Cleveland, Aug. 31.—Mrs. Evangeline Lindbergh watched her famous son go through his daily series of aerobatics at the National Air Races here Friday.

Mrs. Lindbergh was discovered seated in the rear of the distinguished guests' box with her daughter-in-law, the former Anne Spencer Morrow, and several other persons, whose names could not be learned.

AMERICA DOES NOT FEAR ZEP

Big Dirigibles Not Real Menace In Case Of War

Washington, Aug. 31.—America's national defense stands unchallenged by the epoch-making flight of the Graf Zeppelin around the globe—but the world has entered a new era of aerial transportation.

Dismissing as negligible the military value of the Zeppelin's cruise, congressional leaders today declared the flight was of inestimable value to commercial aviation. The present generation, they said, has been given a view of the transportation of the future. Commercial aviation in this country, they added, was challenged to keep abreast of aerial developments.

The men on Capitol hill, who have appropriated billions of dollars for national defense, can see no threat to national safety in the Zeppelin flight. They believe the United States is invulnerable to Zeppelin attacks of any consequence, unless Canada were used as a base—an exceedingly remote possibility. The Zeppelin, while useful in a surprise attack against a nearby nation, they consider, would be almost valueless for offensive military tactics across either the Atlantic or Pacific. Fighting aircraft could destroy such invaders, if they sought to attack America from either Europe or Asia.

College Students' Play At State Theater A Feature

More than 5,000 Roumanians from the entire United States were expected to gather in Salem today, Sunday and Labor Day, during the three-day program, featuring the 23rd annual convention of the Union and League of Roumanian societies of America.

Large crowds gathered here this morning for the opening sessions of the assembly, which called together members of the general committee for a meeting at the Leul Roumanian society hall, on Depot st, for final formation of plans for the entire convention, which is expected to last seven days. The meeting of the general committee opened this morning and was to continue this afternoon, until all plans are completed.

Come From Distance

Delegates from branches of the Union and League from points in the far west and east are expected to reach the city tonight to attend the special delegates' meeting which will be held at the hall Sunday morning, at which the details for the large parade, scheduled for Monday afternoon will be worked out. Sunday night the special entertainment, provided by students of Roumanian descent enrolled in American colleges and universities will be given at the State theater. It will start at 8 o'clock.

A memorial service for deceased members of the Union and League will be held at 9:30 a. m. Monday, with Rev. Stabila, of Sharon, Pa., in charge.

Colorful groups of women in native dress, bands from Salem and other cities, and possibly large floats will be included in Monday's parade, which will form in front of the Roumanian building at noon. Salem city officials will head the entourage, and will be followed by the Quaker City band, officials of the organization, other bands and delegates and specially dressed groups.

Line of March

The parade will form on Depot st, and start its march through the city at 1 o'clock. Here is the line of march:

North on Depot to Main; out Main to McKinley to Centennial park drive; return in McKinley to Lincoln; south on Lincoln to Columbia; west on Columbia to Broadway and Broadway to Franklin, to Depot to the hall.

A stop will be made when the parade reaches city hall and the band will play "Star Spangled Banner." All flags in the parade were shipped to this city for the parade from Roumania, where the were used in the recent tenth anniversary celebration held in observance of the signing of the armistice.

Following the parade the officials' banquet will be held at the dance hall. A dance will be held starting at 7:30 p. m.

Tuesday morning will mark the opening of the annual business session, and also the close of special programs. This business meeting each year has a duration of from five to six days, and will probably not be concluded until next Saturday.

VIEWING PROGRESS

Many Salem residents journeyed to Cleveland and Akron Wednesday night to view the Graf Zeppelin as the great ship passed over before continuing on the last leg of its record globe-trotting trip, which ended at Lakehurst early Thursday morning.

They went primarily to see the largest dirigible in the world, but they were witnessing, at the same time, part of an achievement which will be recorded in history along with the first circumnavigation of the globe by Magellan in the early part of the 16th century.

Magellan completed his voyage after he had withstood unbelievable hardships, after he had seen dozens of his men die from disease and accident. When the remnants of his fleet limped into port after three years and one month of voyaging through untried waters, the Portugese navigator breathed a prayer. Truly his deliverance was an act of the Almighty.

Commander Eckener, of the Graf Zeppelin, on the other hand, circled the globe in 21 days and seven hours. He had advance information on every danger that would confront his great air liner on its voyage. Actual time spent in transit was approximately 12 days and the total elapsed time could have been cut by many hours had he chosen to lower it.

Dr. Eckener will send the Graf back to Friedrichshafen in charge of a vice-commander, while he returns to Akron to discuss plans for the great navy ships which will be built there. Control of the liner has been reduced to such a fine system that his presence is no longer imperative.

Aviation has made many great advances and the flight of the Graf Zeppelin will probably be recorded as one of the greatest single steps taken. Without accident, without danger almost, a mass of material of a size almost beyond comprehension has brought Asia within a few days of America.

The watchers at San Francisco who saw the huge craft coming in from the golden west, and the throngs at Akron and Cleveland who witnessed its course over a few miles of its eastward journey were truly witnessing history in the making.

Dr. Durig, the eminent Viennese physiologist, is fearful that the world will starve to death in 300 years. That's our idea of looking a long way ahead for the purpose of borrowing trouble.

Ruth Elder, according to Walter Camp, Jr., her husband, will quit flying and be content to be Mrs. Camp. Of course, it's always possible for people in love to fool themselves occasionally.

The Export Steamship corporation, which has been loaned $6,900,000 by the United States shipping board, will construct four combination passenger and freight liners 450 feet long with a beam of sixty-one feet for the Mediterranean trade for the handling of which we are least prepared. Who knows? The $250,000,000 voted by congress to encourage an American merchant marine may do far more to that end than the billions we expended in ship experimentation and construction during the war.

What Others Say

AMERICA ENLIVENS WORLD

The other day there was something of a panic among employers of Brussels because the Belgian labor supply had seemingly suddenly dried up. Industrial leaders, like every one aggrieved, wanted to find some one or something on which to lay the blame. They found it. They said the trouble was all caused by American concerns which had come in there and were paying American wages.

It is a rather stimulating thought to think of the whole world going to the American wage basis. For time out of mind, there has always been a notion that Europe, for ever and ever, must be a victim of papuer wages and part of Asia worse than that, but it may dawn on the mind of some effectual person, some of these days, that prosperity need not necessarily always be confined to America.

It is not all a dream. According to Dr. Julius Klein, assistant secretary of commerce, who has the knack of making statistical tables more interesting than fiction, the economic levels of the nations of the world are being raised and the financial resources of individual countries are being augmented by reason of the activity and ever-growing needs of the American people.

World trade of this kind will grow in intimacy and volume. The tendency will be to raise the scale of wants the world over. Perhaps the effect of American trade will be to break up ideas and practices that have too long been regarded as fixed.—Michigan State Journal.

OLD AGE NO LONGER A MATTER OF YEARS

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
(United States Senator from New York)

Not long ago I read an interesting quotation from Henry Ford. He said if he could make his choice he would prefer to have all his employes between 35 and 40 years of age. "For then," he said, "we should have a stable and experienced force. We would not care how much over 60 the rest were, so long as they were able to work."

I'm glad to have this testimony to the value of the labor capable of being done by men at middle age. To my mind one of our most serious social problems relates to the place in industry of men and women past 50 years of age.

There are a great many persons of this age and much older actively engaged in the industrial world. But let a person past 50 get out of touch with his job and it is almost impossible for him ever to find new employment.

I sometimes think my office in New York is a sort of employment bureau. My secretary there is constantly trying to find places for people to work. So, if you have any spare jobs I wish you would let me know.

But what I started to say is, that it is extremely difficult for one—man or woman—past 50, even though he be in good health and capable of doing hard work, to find an employer willing to give him a chance. There is no denying that age is a detriment to the job seeker.

It is pleasing to me to find Mr. Ford indorsing the usefulness of persons past middle life. What he says about their physical endurance harmonizes perfectly with my own views on the subject. For years I've observed that when it comes to a task involving loss of sleep, long hours of work and close attention to details, that people past 40 will endure far more and carry on more successfully than will an equal number of persons below 30.

Mr. Ford says of the persons past 40: "Having lived a number of years is a great advantage to anyone if these years have wrought a background of experience. It is usual to associate age with years only because so many men and women somewhere along in what is called middle age stop trying. They put themselves be old."

We must revise our estimates of age and its significance. It is wicked to attach the idea of age to persons in middle life or past it. They are not old if they conclude to think they are not, and we must help by regarding them as useful members of society.

Buy window shades that outlive use and abuse

After each season's use the original freshness and beauty of Tontine shades are easily restored with . . soap, hot water and a brush

WHEN you pay good money for window shades buy those that last—let us make them for you of genuine du Pont Tontine.

Tontine shades will make your home more attractive — and they'll give you greater economy than any other shade. You simply can't afford to overlook them.

Tontine is not merely painted or filled with colored chalk — but impregnated with pyroxylin (from which DUCO is made) forced through and through the fabric.

So Tontine cannot crack or "pinhole." It withstands rough handling and abuse.

And Tontine shades can actually be WASHED—with soap, hot water and a brush. Year after year you can easily bring back its fresh new beauty, remove all dust and dirt and finger-marks.

It's waterproof, too — dampness can't make it limp—even severe rains can't harm it.

Let us send a man to measure for your new shades. Our work is done with care. Our shades hang straight, run true without catching or buckling.

And from our years of experience with all types of shades, we can tell you that we've never carried a shade that gave such satisfaction, such wear and such ultimate economy as genuine du Pont Tontine.

We strongly recommend it.

VETS FIGHTING NAVY'S PLAN TO SCRAP OLYMPIA

Organizations Oppose Old Vessel's Trip To Scrap Heap

Washington, Aug. 31.—Six gray-beards of the Spanish-American war will lead the senate opposition to legislation to save the Olympia from a naval scrapheap.

Veterans organizations have begun a campaign to use the ship which was the flagship of Admiral Dewey at the Battle of Manila bay as a memorial to the Spanish-American war. If successful it would be permanently moored in the Potomac river within a few hundred yards of the Lincoln memorial and the Washington Monument.

Hundreds of thousands of visitors to Washington then could see the gallant old ship which helped win America's greatest victory in battle. It would be the pride of the Save-the-Navy leaders believe, to remind the people of the sacrifices made by the soldiers and sailors of 1898.

Six Senators

Six senators, who saw service in that struggle, were Walter E. Edge (R) of New Jersey, Elmer B. Howell (R) of Nebraska, Smith W. Brookhart (R) of Iowa, Sam G. Bratton (D) of New Mexico, Tom Connally (D) of Texas, Furnifold D. Tyson (D) of North Carolina had an interesting war record, while none of them served together in that war, all finally did serve together in the senate.

Edge volunteered in 1898 and was with Company F, 4th regiment New Jersey Volunteer Infantry. He was the company's second lieutenant. Afterwards, he had military experience as the result of a long term in the New Jersey National Guard. Subsequently he commanded that guard as major general of New Jersey.

Howell was in the American army during the Spanish-American war. He had graduated from the Annapolis academy in 1885 and at the outbreak of the war was a member of the Academy's official board of visitors. He returned to active service during the war.

Brookhart as member of the Iowa National Guard in 1896, went into service. It was while commanding a company of guards-men that Brookhart first achieved fame as a marksman. His training led him to develop this ability and in 1912 he captained the United States rifle team which won the world's championship at the Stockholm Olympic events. He never saw the battle line in the war but later he served in the Mexican border campaign as well as the World war.

Went In Cuba

Bratton, however, was under fire in Cuba. He volunteered in '98 with Louisiana infantry. His home was on the gulf, his unit was one of the first sent to Cuba. His service was such commendation he later was associated with the Taft commission which investigated conditions in the Philippine Islands.

Connally, once rejected as a volunteer subsequently slipped into the Second Regiment of Texas Volunteers and served there throughout the war. His principal regret was that he never reached Cuba—an ambition he could have achieved if his efforts to enlist had been successful.

Tyson, a graduate of West Point in 1881 had 12 years of Indian warfare under his belt before he volunteered in 1898. He was named colonel of the Sixth Regiment, U. S. V. He took his command to Puerto Rico where it saw service. Later Tyson became a brigadier general and saw service in France during the World war.

All six men, having a deeper understanding of the Spanish-American war than their colleagues, will champion the cause of the Olympia. If they fail in securing the favorable action, the Dewey flagship will end its days on a junk pile.

Leetonia Voters Will Have Independent Vote At Polls

Leetonia, Aug. 31.—In addition to having a regular Republican and Democratic ticket in the field at the November election, an independent ticket has been framed at Leetonia and forwarded to the county board of elections at East Liverpool. The independent ticket is composed mostly of Republicans, although some of the Democratic faith have been nominated for different village offices.

On this ticket is the name of Mayor D. H. Schaeffer, a Republican, and L. E. Fisher, Democrat, who is seeking re-election as village clerk. Frank G. Spatholt, Republican, is a candidate for village treasurer, while C. J. Sullivan is a candidate on this ticket for re-election as marshal. Sullivan has been re-elected for many terms on an independent ticket.

George Johnson and Archie Beilhart, elected two years ago as members of council on the Independent ticket have been named as independent candidates again while Stanley Prior, Republican is also a candidate to succeed himself on this ticket. John L. Sitler and Myron C. Hileman, Republicans and Robert Clifford and Pro Rauch, Democrats, have also been named candidates for the council as is Frank Mossman, Republican.

Old Rubber Plants Are Being Closed

Hartford, Aug. 31.—Ancient rubber plants in Connecticut are being abandoned by the United States Rubber Co., in favor of the corporation's newer factories. The L. Candee Rubber Co., at New Haven, first makers of rubber boots and shoes in the world, was closed and its employes discharged in the spring.

Now the Hartford Rubber Works, a concern dating back to the middle of last century, has announced its activities will be centered upon Detroit.

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, Aug. 31.—Speaking of material, the new winter collections seem to have everything any woman's heart desires.

There are plain ones in lovely bright colors, flowerd, polka-dotted, or striped to beat the band. One of the most beautiful new fabrics is a faconne crepe de chine on which an intricate Chinese design is woven with such art one would never dream it were done by a machine instead of clever fingers. Sunasol satin has elaborate designs worked on a glistening background. A new chine effect is called persana and color combinations are most effective, such as navy, blue and beige, brown and white, pastel blue and beige. Lame sunasol will be a big favorite for evening as well as gold or silver-dotted satin which comes in every pastel shade.

Tiny metal brocaded figures give a rich variety of effects and there are ancient Persian designs and modern leaves in shaded silver.

Among the woolens, there is a new jersey fabric with a tweed surface and the back in jersey weave. "Griselva" has a hoar-frost effect and is made in all shades with the boucle pressed down making a smooth surface.

The distinguishing feature of the new tweeds is the combination of several colors and the extensive use of the knotted thread. Dots are much in evidence and one heavy tweed with the knotted thread has silk barettes sprinkled over the surface. Another in black and blue has the dots placed close in one case and simply sprinkled over in another giving a peppered surface. Double-faced herringbone with light colored back will be much favored for traveling coats and rough wear.

Sting of Bug Sends Five To Hospital

Bordeaux, Aug. 31.—A little wasp has put five people into the hospital in this city and wrecked a good automobile. It buzzed along and stung a young Belgian insurance inspector who was driving the car and four other friends.

Attempting to chase off the insect, the driver lost partial control of the car which ran into a tree and smashed into the proverbial thousand and one pieces.

Annual Dinner Fee In City $150,000,000

Chicago, Aug. 31.—If some big hearted gentleman should play host and reach for Chicago's annual dinner check at restaurants he would have to dig down into the jeans for just $150,000,000.

That, it is estimated, is what the city's 5,000 eating places ring into the cash register each year.

The drug store, which modern literature has reported more interested feeds than drugs, keeps up with its reputation. It was found that 40 drug stores do lunchroom business of $2,000,000 per annum.

Among the restaurants are 372 that make about $50,000 a year each. These are mostly located in the Loop section.

HOME-MAKING HELPS

By Wanda Barton

The expert housekeeper looked at her hands ruefully.

"Isn't it absurd?" she asked apologetically. "I've cooked for years and yet I still burn myself at the stove. Wish I could cook with gloves on."

It isn't remarkable. Because it's so easy to be absent-minded for that little second or so while cooking. A bell rings. A child asks a question. A sudden recollection of something forgotten, and lo, there's a slip. A burn appears almost before you notice it.

One comparatively new item that ought to reduce this kind of kitchen accident is a particularly well-made tongs. It comes in two sizes, six-inch and nine-inch, and as it is not expensive, a set of two would be a great help in any kitchen where regular cooking goes on. The tongs can be used in a variety of ways. But particularly on all those occasions when the housekeeper would, ordinarily, just stretch her arm and hand more or less recklessly in a hot area.

In baking, for one thing. The roast needs to be turned in the hot oven. Or potatoes. Instead of using even a large fork or spoon (which only partly protects the hands) the long tongs comes into action. Its strong prongs at the end grip anything as firmly as need be but the hands are kept at a goodly distance from the heat. Pans or baking dishes may be pulled half way out of the oven if they need to be looked at during the baking process. The steak may be turned while broiling and so on.

Similarly when boiling the long prongs lift anything out of hot water beyond hand's reach doing a good job of draining if necessary, in the meantime. Anything that needs lifting from hot water—from vegetables to babies' bottles can better be handled with tongs.

A Labor Day outing party for real he-men can be made a camp de luxe affair. Provided with all the camp comforts of folding tables, stools, folding gridiron and oven, a generous coffee pot with the ground coffee in bags so it will not need a strainer, thermos bottles and so on, a good start is made. Paper plates, cups and napkins avoid all dish washing. A refrigerator basket with a chunk of ice will keep sweet the steak, cream for coffee and cantaloupes while the corn can be shucked, silked and wrapped in wax paper ready to boil. Butter also fits in the basket while biscuits and bread go in a box. The ice cream travels packed in dry ice and arrives in perfect condition.

In the little motor fireless cooker a chicken and lamb stew will cook as you motor and be done on arriving, just lift the cover and tuck in a dozen quick biscuits broken open and let stand while you are setting the table, getting the camp fire ready to broil the steak over and boil the coffee. Boil the corn and if desired bake some biscuits.

For a machine load of six or seven men the stew will need two four-pound chickens jointed and cut in serving pieces, three pounds of breast of lamb, three large sliced onions, twelve potatoes, and water to cover. Roll each piece of chicken and meat in flour, add seasoning, and boil for fifteen minutes before starting it in the fireless cooker.

The steak should be large, thick, well scored and brushed over with a little soft butter if broiled on the folding broiler. If broiled right on the carefully prepared coals, western fashion, it does not need the butter. When done, butter and season well and serve with the hot biscuits and the corn. The stew should be served first. If preferred, good apple pie may replace the ice cream but remember that pies served in the open cut into only four pieces, so prepare accordingly. Make the pies thick and juicy with every bit of core removed and nice crisp pie crust.

Some men like to cook all they eat themselves, especially if they expect to fish with reasonable luck, in which case the stew may be left out, but in case the fish refuse to bite it is safety first to take along the steak, corn and the biscuit makings. Even the pies may become life savers under such circumstances.

A supply of radishes and scallions may be taken to eat with the steak and a pot of horseradish will also be appreciated. Steel knives and plated forks—the ten-cent store abounds with this picnic silver—saves risking better cutlery. Don't forget the cheese to go with the apple pie. Edam travels well and is rich and tasty.

This will be one of the last early Fall outings, especially if big sun goes along for school opens soon after and picnics are off for another year. This is an outing without the incision, even of a sandwich which is a great relief and change. If real hunters are among the guests and should manage to bring down a few birds, a duck or some such dainty, then the cooking pot and tripod will be needed for the cooking. This being the case don't forget the pepper, salt, plenty of butter, onions and potatoes, also two good sharp butcher knives.

ate traffic accidents. They should realize the enormous difference their care and consideration in driving will mean in keeping these children safe from physical harm. Such a spirit will do more than anything else in making for better safety."

The schoolboy patrol will again be placed in operation in the Salem schools, Morris stated, this plan having done much to reduce accidents in the past two years, since its introduction by the Motor club. Motor car operators, the county head stated, rendered excellent cooperation to the patrols last year in helping lower the casualty rate in this city.

"The reduction of accidents in Salem is in part traceable to the courtesy shown by drivers to the school boy patrols established in the city. While safety is a part of the school curriculum in almost all schools here, and children in higher grades have for several years been given instruction in its principals, after spending the vacation period safe on playgrounds or at their homes, there may be a tendency towards carelessness on the part of the students. Due to this fact, more than ever should the driver exercise utmost care," the motor club manager concluded.

Duesseldorf—The Duesseldorf architect, Alfred Kurhaupt, has received a call to the University of Paris as professor of architecture and city building. Prof. Kurhaupt has accepted the call.

LINDY ADVISES

decided asset, but it is not an asset in flying a plane.

"If a sensitive man is flying a plane with a load of passengers he is apt to become over conscious of the great responsibility that is his. It places him on nervous edge. Then if he should have trouble in the air the strain on his nerves is so great that he is likely to make an error in judgment or be unable to think rapidly enough to gain control of the situation.

"The fliers who have the most spectacular records to their credit are, on the average, men of the nerveless type. They are mystified because you regard the things they do as dangerous. Flying, however dangerous, is taken by them as a matter of course, as part of their daily job.

"On the other hand, an imaginative man in the designing or executive side of the industry can visualize a great airliner or new plane that marks a great step forward and his nervous energy will stir him into action so that it is not long until he sees in reality what he first saw in the inner recesses of his mind.

"This plane is turned over to the stolid, nerveless pilot, who makes a great flight with it successfully and the airmindedness of the general public is increased.

"The imaginative man's place is in aviation's office, the stolid man's place on the flying field."

COUNTY SCHOOLS

tricts, but still about 114 of the old buildings remain. These the board hopes to eliminate by gradual steps, but Leonard stated Friday afternoon it was almost certain that the entire total of one-room buildings will not be eleminated in less than a period of ten years.

Buildings Eliminated

The ten one-room buildings eliminated are in Salem township. Three other single-room buildings have been consolidated with the Butler township of education having jurisdiction over them, as they will remain open.

Maple Run, Mount Vernon, Franklin Square, Jersey Ridge, and Mount Nebo schools are closed through the consolidation in Salem township, which was linked with Leetonia's school district. The New Waterford school addition is being built to accommodate pupils coming there this year from one-room buildings formerly maintained in Wm. Penn, Cross, and Highland, Carlton Hill and West View schools. In Unity township will be closed, having been united with East Palestine's school district.

No change will be affected in Washingtonville school except that it will be under Leetonia board's control.

Opponents to the various consolidation plans are still attempting to block the board from forcing them to send their children to the schools operated in the new system, but it appeared likely that they will be forced to abide by the consolidation plan. Seven rural districts have been abandoned in the plan adopted by the board, there being only 28 districts this year, while 35 were maintained last term.

Plans Started For Second Annual Municipal Tennis Tourney

Centennial Park Will Be Scene Of Contest Scheduled Next Week

Plans for the second annual municipal tennis tournament at Centennial park, to be held next week were announced today by Joe M. Kelley, Salem community sports director.

The tourney will be held only if sufficient entries are received to warrant it, Kelley stated, in filing Wednesday night, at 6 o'clock as the closing hour for players to file entries. Only singles are planned on for the week, a doubles competition being played the week following if interest is shown.

Players will be divided into three classes, A, B and C. Those participating in the Columbiana county play at the Country club this weekend, will be placed into the "A" division, and average players will be given the "B" standing. Youthful entrants will be placed into the "C" class.

Due to the large amount of interest displayed by younger players in the racket, it appeared possible today that even though older players will not enter in sufficient numbers for their tournament the Class C contest will still go on. The kids of the city are all showing plenty of interest in the game going to the park all hours of the day for practice contests, and are expected to enter the affair in numbers.

Three large silver trophies will be awarded the winners in each class, Kelley states. Play will start Thursday, and all matches, if possible, be concluded by Saturday.

Next week, if this week's tourney goes on, and a sufficient number enter, the doubles will be held. All matches must be played at the time set, and if played away from the park courts, they must be reported to Kelley or Fred K. Schuller within 2 hours after being played or they will be thrown out.

Drawings will be made Wednesday night and announced through these columns Thursday.

Pirates Take Fourth Game From Chicago

Bruins' Lead Reduced To 10½ Games As Meine Blanks Opponents

BY HENRY McLEMORE

New York, N. Y., Aug. 31.—When asked by some inquisitive soul today as to his favorite city Joe McCarthy of the Chicago Cubs, McCarthy is reported to have heatedly answered, "anyone but Pittsburgh."

Don't let Mr. McCarthy's statement influence your pick, however, as he is no doubt prejudiced—not to mention biased.

For some three days ago McCarthy led his 14½ game leading Cubs into Pittsburgh expecting nothing short of a tremendous welcome which translated meant a push-over series for his ambitious boys. Instead his boys all got headaches.

Following the loss of a double-header on Thursday, youthful Henry Meine three-hitted the leaders yesterday while his comrades in flannel slammed Bush and Nehf for a 15 to 0 victory. The Cubs lead by 10½ games and reports have it that Burleigh Grimes is set to reduce that lead another notch today.

Giants Drop 2-1 Game

The old combination of Vance and Deberry was working at the same old stand yesterday and Brooklyn turned back New York, 2 to 1. Vance held the Giants in check until the tenth when DeBerry dropped a double along the left field line scoring Gilbert for the ball game. Bill Terry watched three of Vance's fast ones zip by in the tenth and Dazzy recorded his one-hundredth strike-out of the year. Dave Herman passed his 28th inning without so much as a single.

After many days of silence Chuck Klein broke his home run silence by tapping number 34 as the Phillies scalped the Braves, 9 to 5, in the only other scheduled National League game. Klein's slap enabled him to regain the lead in the National home run marathon.

George Earnshaw made another valn attempt for his 20th victory as the Red Sox downed the Athletics 4 to 2. Jack Russell allowed the leaders but seven hits. Rain prevented Washington from tying up with the Yankees in the other game booked for the American.

Bad Reichenhall—A new saline mineral spring, rich in carbonic acid, has been discovered in the spa. The spring was located by a dowser with his "divining rod" of witchhazel, an ancient procedure still held in esteem in Germany.

McCARTHY'S 4 FIRST-STRING CATCHERS

THREE Chicago pitchers are listed among the first five in the National league ratings and one reason is found in the array of first-class Cub catchers. Even though Gabby Hartnett (left), rated the league's best catcher, has been unable to work this season, Mique Gonzales (next to Hartnett), Zack Taylor (third) and Johnny Schulte (fourth) have carried on nobly and are some of the reasons why the Cubs are riding high these days.

Doings Of People In Columbiana And Nearby Counties---Crop Data

STATISTICS PROVE AID TO FARMERS

Farmers are losing their fear of contempt for statistics. Agricultural operators are discovering that the cold columns of figures may hold the open what crops to plant next season, whether to sell or buy dairy cows, what plans to make for swine breeding.

For a long time farmers have labored under the delusion that they could not understand statistics on "mental conditions," said L. H. Burpee, one of the farm management specialists in the agricultural extension service of the Ohio State university. "Now they are discovering that they can not only understand statistics, but can use them to advantage in their business when the figures in question are put on a reasonable basis."

The extension specialists in farm management have already scheduled for next fall economic meetings in 30 Ohio counties and more will follow. At these meetings the specialists will offer to the farmers figures and statistics and interpretations on six of the important departments of agricultural activity of the state—wheat, poultry, hogs, sheep and wool, potatoes and dairy products.

Two-thirds to three-fourths of each meeting will be given over to a discussion of the basic economic background of each department. At a "wheat" meeting for example, the specialists will set forth the place of wheat in a good system of farm management, Ohio's rank in wheat production and the Ohio farmer's chance of competing with wheat producers in other states, principal factors affecting the price of wheat and seasonal variations in the price of wheat, and the present wheat price situation.

"Giving the farmer basic background information puts him in a better position to judge the situation if any farm commodity at any given time," say the farm management specialists.

Four hundred dollars in prizes will be awarded in the second Logan County Plowing Contest, to be held Wednesday, September 4, at O'Connor's Landing, Indian Lake, according to word received at the office of the Mahoning County Farm Bureau.

This is a unique competition, and drew hundreds of persons as spectators last year, in addition to the large numbers of entrants in the four classes. The four classes will be boys' tractor class, men's tractor, boys' horse-drawn, and men's horse-drawn. One hundred dollars will be awarded in each class, prizes being $35, $25, $15, $10, and three of $5 each. The contest is open to any farmer or farm boy in Logan county.

In addition to the cash prizes gold medals will be awarded to each first prize winner, and the Ohio State University Sweepstakes Cup, won by Frank Wish in 1928, again will be up. Plowing is to start at 9:30 a. m. and if the weather is unfavorable the contest will be postponed to Tuesday, September 10.

The Boswell S. S. S. Club of Mahoning county met in Boyd Grove on August 21 with fifteen members present as well as six visitors. The mothers were invited guests. The completed garments displayed. After the business meeting they presented a short program. It was decided to continue the meetings in evenings during the winter. The next meeting will be held at the home of the leader on September 13.

The Berlin Sunshine Workers met at the home of Mrs. Read on August 20 with nine members and three visitors present. The feature of the meeting was the dress parade. The members donned their finished dresses and posed for a picture of the group.

The Greenford Busy Bees held a meeting on August 22 at the home to Theda Slagle. There were twenty members and 5 visitors present. When the business was completed the dresses were displayed, and the girls sang songs. The next meeting will be held at the home of Phillis Lamb on September 7.

Mahoning County Farm Bureau has arranged for another series of motion pictures. The series begins October first with "Settled Out of Court", and continues for four months with "Blue Monday", "The Farm that Jack Built", and "Valley Gold". H. W. Zuercher, service manager, will show these pictures. Anyone interested in securing them for Farm Bureau Meetings make arrangements at the Farm Bureau office.

Each 4-Hclub in the county is harboring a deep dark secret. No one knows how their booth is to be decorated for the fair. Excitement prevails. The girls club work will all be exhibited in the Club building. Five boys clubs will exhibit in this building also. The 4-H calves will be found in the Coliseum, their chickens in the Poultry Hall, and their pigs in the Hog Barn.

"—as advertised"

How many times you see those two words in thecourse of a day's shopping: "This article for sale —as advertised."

And those two words are as welcome as they are familiar, for they form a bond of confidence between the merchant and yourself. They are his guarantee to you of worth and value.

Here is an article that has been described in your newspaper. Its merits have been told; possibly, too, its price. You know exactly what you will get when you buy it. You know its quality, its utility; you know how it fits into your needs. And when you buy it, you know you are getting, not some unproved substitute but the specified article — as represented.

It is easy to understand why that phrase, "as advertised," creates a feeling of confidence. You have learned to depend upon consistently advertised products. You know that the maker has confidence in them, else he would not spend money calling your attention to them day after day, and month after month. You know that they have been approved by the most critical of investigators—the buying public. And above all you know from experience that buying goods "as advertised" is the best investment you can make.

It pays to read the advertisements in The News

DEAN SPEAKS AT SCHOOL MEETING

Curiosity Key to Success Is Statement Made at Columbus Session

Columbus, O., Aug. 31—Curiosity is one of the most valuable human instincts, Dr. E. J. Ashbaugh, dean of the school of education at Miami university, told the graduating class of the Ohio State university here Friday at the summer convocation when 400 young men and women were started along the roadway of life.

Fifteen states and two foreign lands were represented in the class of students who received degrees.

"The natural desire to know is essential to all learning," Dr. Ashbaugh declared. "But too often, in the process of education," he insisted, "curiosity is stunted rather than stimulated, destroyed rather than developed, repressed rather than rewarded."

"The evidence of a great teacher," the professor observed, "is not that his students know the material he has taught but that they come from his courses with a desire to know more and more. There is no substitute for sound scholarship, but the teacher who has naught but scholarship and expects naught but knowledge has not reached the highest goal."

"Curiosity means success," the doctor concluded.

AT THE STATE

CLARA BOW IS AT THE STATE NEXT WEEK IN "DANGEROUS CURVES."

"AT THE ROYAL"

A cinematic masterpiece of courage and love which scales new dramatic height for all-talkers is the feature attraction at the Royal next week, "The Valiant", with Paul Muni and Johnny Mack Brown as stars, comes to the playhouse for three days, starting Monday.

Fidelity of a condemned murderer to high ideals, even to the point of refusing to acknowledge his identity to his own sister that she and his mother might be saved from heartache and disgrace, is the absorbing theme of "The Valiant."

With Paul Muni in the exacting role of the convict and Marguerite Churchill co-featured in the feminine lead, the picture has been hailed as one of the dramatic achievements of the season in Fox Movietone. It is presented by a supporting cast of stellar rank, including John Mack Brown, De Witt Jennings, Richard Carlyle, Edith Yorke, Henry Kolker, Cliff Dempsey and George Pearce.

Adapted from a stage play written by Holworthy Hall and Robert Middlemass, "The Valiant" was directed by William K. Howard, with dialogue from the fluent pen of Tom Barry and John Hunter Booth, author of "In Old Arizona," the Fox Movietone sensation.

"Red Wine"

"Red Wine", a silent picture, a real sparkling comedy with a kick comes to the Royal Thursday only, and then Friday and Saturday, Ted Wells plays in "The Riding Demon."

Starting Thursday, William Charles Betts, internationally known foe of immorality will give lectures as an added attraction for two days.

AGED ACTOR

William H. Taylor, 101 years of age, believed to be the oldest living picture actor, was given a part in the all-talking film, "The Vagabond King." Taylor was born in Brownsville, Texas, on July 9, 1828, he told casting officials at the Paramount studio. The town was then a part of old Mexico. He will appear in the all-color song romance, "The Vagabond King" which stars Dennis King.

He is a veteran of three wars, having served through two Indian campaigns and in the Union army during the Civil war. He tried to get into the Spanish American war but was rejected because of his advanced age.

The centenarian has never married and largely attributes his longevity to that fact.

AT THE STATE

Clara Bow, of "Wild Party" fame, crashes into the cinema spotlight in Salem again, when she arrives at the State theater next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in her new starring vehicle, "Dangerous Curves" in which Richard Arlen is starred opposite her.

The flaming-haired miss is cast in the role of an aspiring young girl working in an act with a carnival. She hopes some time to become a famous tight-rope walker, and sets as her standard, Arlen, who is in the same show as a headlined performer.

Kay Francis, who won such admirable praise for her performance in "Gentlemen of the Press" is filmed as Clara's waterloo, winning Arlen's affections, then dropping him suddenly. T. Roy Barnes, David Newell, Anders Randolph and Jack Ludin are all given leading roles.

Arlen Outstanding

Arlen's performance in the film wins even greater plaudits than does that of the "It" girl, for Clara, although to a certain extent the same lass who won fame in her past pictures, is at least not the same actress, and fails to give a high class portrait of her part. The picture is excellent, reviewers state, with the entire cast in starring characterizations.

With "Dangerous Curves" is an all-talking comedy, starring Johnny Burke in "The Bride's Relations."

Following the Arlen-Bow feature onto the State's silver screen is "Divorce Made Easy," with Marie Prevost and Douglas McLean the stars. It is an out-and-out parlor and bedroom farce, with McLean cast in a role that is hilariously ridiculous but laugh-bringing.

The scenes are in Doug's handsomely fitted apartment and in a hotel and a night club. The night-club scene, in the talking version, is used to introduce the theme song, "So Sweet," which is a "wow" number and sure to make them whistle on the way out. Marie Prevost also sings the song in an earlier scene.

Two Pilots Escape Death In Accident

Dayton, O., Aug. 31.—Two U. S. Army pilots had a narrow escape from injury or possible death when the airplane which they were flying, a large type bomber, crashed in a cornfield four miles northwest of Xenia, near here, late Friday.

They were Lieutenant Levi S. Gerry, and Emil Henrich, a civilian test pilot, now employed by the army.

Their plane's motor 'died' at the height of 1,500 feet. The men crawled from the wreckage unhurt.
